Three day exhibit Of quality wares Opens August 17

Twenty Newmarket merchants will be exhibiting choice wares from their stock at an exhibition to be held in the Newmarket Arena on Aug. 17, 18, 19. It is the first event scheduled for the arena after the new floor is laid. Eugene McCaffrey is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements.

The show had its origin last year when the Newmarket Horticultural Society extended its annual gladiolus show to include exhibits by town merchants, a display of handcraft work and the collection of West Coast Indian beadwork and carving, and a representative showing of the work of Fred Hagan. This year, the society has again sponsored the exhibition, extending the show over three days.

The Thursday, Aug. 17 opening will be held in conjunction with the second night of the Lions club two-day carnival and will include among its attractions the Lions dance and monster bingo. The flowers for the gladiolus show will be entered and judged on Friday night and on display on Saturday.

It was hoped by the Horticultural Society executive last year that by enlarging the appeal of the gladiolus show, a start could be made towards the revival of Newmarket's fair. The large number of entries this year is an encouraging indication of the growing interest the show has.

Merchants who will be exhibiting are Tom Birrell, Stew Beare, Mrs. Alex Eves, Newmarket Radio Electric, Robert Yates, Geer and Byers, Marigold Gift Shoppe, Morrison's Men's Wear, British-Ontario Motors, R. W. Jelley, Howard Morton, Newmarket Co-Op, Ang West, Dyer's Furniture, Elman Campbell, Bert Budd, J. L. Spillette, Singer Sewing Machine, Boyd and McMath, George Lee, Howard Brice.

It is expected that still more requests for display space will be made.

Linda Ballantyne, foreground, looks over the script for the next show at the Red Barn theatre at Jackson's Point. Gladys Forrester and Sheila Craig, two other members of the cast are relaxing in the outdoors before the evening performance. The girls rehearse outside at times, go swimming each day and like to be outdoors as much as possible. The 75-year old barn was taken over for a summer theatre by Brian Doherty Toronto lawyer, now producer.

Hydro opens depots For clocks, fans In cycle change

Coinciding with the commencement of Hydro's frequency standardization program in the Lake Simcoe municipalities of Sutton and Keswick, the Hydro Commission will open clock and fan depots in these two communities. It is expected that this same routine will be followed when conversion begins in Newmarket and Aurora district. Preliminary arrangements are already under way at the fair grounds where the centre of operations will be established for Newmarket conversion toward the end of the summer.

Chairman Robert H. Saunders said that the depot at Sutton will open on Monday, July 17, the same day as the first "cut-overs" of Sutton consumers to 60-cycle power supply. Located in Sutton high school, it will be open from July 17 to August 4, and from August 14 to August 31, for the duration of the change-over program in the area.

The week following the inauguration of the Sutton depot, another will be opened at Keswick when the frequency standardization program begins there. The Keswick unit will be opened from July 24 to August 4, and from August 14 to August 31. Both will be closed from August 4 to 14th, for the annual vacation period.

Function of a clock and fan depot is to provide service to domestic consumers. Each is laid out like a modern store with new model 60-cycle clocks and fans attractively arranged in well-lighted display cases and on shelves. Householders residing in an area that is to be "cut-over" to 60 cycle power supply, are advised in a letter by Hydro that all portable 25-cycle clocks and fans should be taken to the designated depot.

AURORA ORANGE PARADE

The colorful orange umbrellas, banners and flags of Aurora L.O.B.A. and L.O.L. attracted attention at the Orangemen's Parade held Saturday at Brampton. Thirty-eight representatives from the local lodges marched with a reported 2,000 members from the Brampton district.

If the equipment brought in is found to be such that it can be readily changed over, the consumer can have that service done free of charge. Should the consumer bring in an electrical clock, for example, and desire to exchange it, he may have one on a no-charge basis, choosing from any of four new 60-cycle clocks on display.

If the customer desires a different type clock, this may be obtained by paying the difference between the average change over cost and the Commission's cost on a new clock.

The same policy, Mr. Saunders pointed out, applied to electric fans. He said there were some 15 new 60-cycle models available.

All sand removed Test pipes in readiness For laying floor at rink

The sand is out of the arena. Manager Percy Hutchinson described the job "as the biggest hoeing job in six counties." The sand from between the pipes had to be hoed out by hand for the most part and then wheeled outside.

Employees of the Garla Flooring and Supply Co. of Toronto moved in Tuesday afternoon to level the pipes. Following this, Canada Ice Machinery Co. is expected to test for leaks. After any necessary repairs are completed, the pipes will be given a paint job with waterproof paint. Next step is the actual pouring of the cement.

Cement work is expected to take about four days. It is estimated something like 900 bags of cement are required to complete the job. After the concrete is poured and trap rock finish put on a setting period of a month is required before the floor can be used.

The Garla Flooring Co. installed the floor recently at Allison Arena and at Bracebridge last year.

RESURFACE SIDEWALKS

The Newmarket council is experimenting with resurfacing sidewalks with asphalt. One walk has been done at the west end of Park Ave. Plans have been made to resurface sidewalks on Timothy, Boisford and Park Ave.

Soap Box Derby will feature All but roar of Indianapolis

Everything except the roar of supercharged multi-cylinder engines will go to make the Legion Soap Box Derby as realistic as the Indianapolis speedway races. But instead of it being the Indianapolis speedway it will be Main St. hill in Newmarket, the evening of Wednesday, July 26.

Ray Smith of the Newmarket Sport and Cycle Shop will operate a "service station" at the starting line for Derby contestants. Oil, grease and wrenches for last minute adjustments will be supplied by Mr. Smith free of charge. Derby car parts are also available in stock at Mr. Smith's.

Howard Morton is lending a jeep so that the judges and officials will be organized into a mobile unit. It will transport officials over the course so that duties will be carried out with dispatch. Derby entrants are asked to be at the arena not later than 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 26.

Charlie VanZant's orchestra has been retained by the Newmarket branch of the Legion for the street dance being held in conjunction with the carnival the same night. While plans are being made for the carnival and derby night another phase of Legion activity has been in progress at the Legion Hall. Excavation started yesterday on the basement for the renovated building. The building will be moved a few feet from the present position and will face west instead of south. Plans are under way to make it a substantial permanent hall, also to landscape the grounds.

St. Andrew's represented On Bermuda cricket team

At the invitation of the Bermuda Chamber of Commerce 20 Canadian College boys formed a cricket team which was flown to the Island recently. Richard C. Gibb of St. Andrew's College was in charge of the boys. The team was representative of the Little Big Four Cricket Team to which Ridley, Trinity, St. Andrew's and Upper Canada Colleges belong. The boys played three preliminary games with club teams and then the Bermuda Cricket Association chose a team from the three clubs to play the final match. The Canadian lads did very well in the preliminaries but were trimmed in the finals.

Residents of Bermuda billeted the boys and provided a gay week of dances and parties for their enjoyment. The trip both ways by plane provided a stop-over in New York City.

Newmarket fire Dept. To service East Gwill.

Newmarket will supply fire fighting services to East Gwillimbury township. A by-law was passed at town council meeting on Monday night to supply fire fighting equipment and personnel to the southern part of East Gwillimbury township.

East Gwillimbury requested the services from Newmarket and an agreement is to stipulate $60 for each call for not longer than two hours and $10 an hour over that time. "The area in which Newmarket firemen will be subject to call is bordered on the north by the Green Lane, on the West by Yonge St. and on the east by the third concession. The area is to include properties on the west side of Yonge St.

TO PROCEED WITH NEW HEATING IN TOWN HALL

A new heating unit in the town hall will cost the town of Newmarket $5,265. A contract award for R. W. Jelley for installing an oil burning furnace was approved by council Monday night. The heating unit, planned for the basement of the building, will heat the police station, auditorium, magistrate's court offices and other offices.

The auditorium has been heated by a furnace on the ground floor. During the last winter wood was burned in the furnace. "If we are going to keep the town hall building, we must heat it properly," said councillor Tom Birrell Monday night. The new heating system will have radiators which will heat the auditorium. The auditorium has had one large floor register for the one furnace previously.

"Where will the Christmas market be held?" asked Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette.

Mr. Birrell indicated that the market would be held in the remaining section of the ground floor. Half of the ground floor has been taken up by court offices.

"I can foresee that in a couple of years the town will be putting the town clerk's office in this remaining ground floor space," said Mr. Birrell.

Handicraft, swim classes For Aurora this summer

It was decided at a meeting of the Aurora Recreation Commission to have picnic tables and benches built which can be used for open air handicraft classes. Classes will be held in the town park during the summer months. Tom Dickson said that nine volunteers will be available to help with this branch of the summer recreation program. They will be under the supervision of Mrs. B. L. Stavert, handicraft director.

Swimming classes are being held every Wednesday at Wilcox Lake. Until now it has been from the Red Cross swimming instructor as to when he can be in Aurora, a regular schedule cannot be set. Mr. Ash of Wilcox Lake has been generous in offering the Commission the use of his dressing-rooms and the swimming facilities on his property for these classes.

Two children injured When car hits bridge

A car struck the railing on the Davis Dr. bridge last Saturday night. The accident caused injuries to 14-year-old Ronald Searle and his 12-year-old sister, Barbara. The boy required many stitches in his face. He was attended by Dr. John Dales. The girl suffered face and knee injuries.

The children had been riding in the front seat of the car driven by William Fitchett, Newmarket. Two other children, Ruth and Kenny Widdifield, were riding in the back seat.

The car crashed into the cement guard rail which separates the roadway on the bridge from the sidewalk. The driver said he was crowded over by traffic travelling in the opposite direction.

Approve of plan For subdivision West on Eagle St.

A draft plan for a proposed subdivision adjacent to Armitage Heights was presented before Newmarket council Monday night. The property committee of council has had the town owned land west of Armitage Heights surveyed into lots, also the strip of land between Armitage Heights and Eagle St. There are 63 building lots marked on the plan which council approved.

The town is now selling building lots on Eagle St. and it is expected that it will eventually sell lots west of Armitage Heights to open another subdivision. Although it would appear that the south-west portion of the land would require an extra sewage pumping station, council has put the plans on paper. Water service is to be extended to Eagle St. anyway so the westerly subdivision would benefit from the extension.

One objection raised was that the only access between Armitage Heights and the proposed subdivision would be by Eagle St. The Armitage Heights subdivision was laid out so that Andrew St. came to a dead end at a row of houses on the western limits. It was proposed that a lane be widened by taking in one of the proposed building lots for a roadway a few yards south of Eagle St. Andrew St. would not be continued but an access by means of a jog would give access into the new subdivision.

Mayor Vale said that the reason Andrew St. was made into a dead end was that the planners did not want a thoroughfare through the subdivision. "It was realized that there would be a lot of children playing in the district which would be occupied by veterans' families," he said.

The plan shows a 25-foot lane behind all the houses facing Eagle St. The lane was planned to facilitate such services as milk delivery and garbage collection.

A resolution for the approval of the plan was put forth by councillors Birrell and Dales.

Start sixth summer Of supervised play Sponsored by Lions

The Newmarket Lions club is sponsoring for the sixth year a supervised playground for elementary school children at Lions park. The six-week program will be under the direction of Audrey Rowland and Mrs. Myrtle Purcell will assist her. The program begins on Monday.

The hours are from 1.15 until 4.45 p.m. As before, the point system will be followed with children receiving points for attendance, good behavior, participation in the program. It is planned to take those with high point totals swimming each Friday and there will be prizes at the end of the year for the boy and the girl with highest number of points.

Miss Rowland urges all children to be present for the initial registration so that they can begin at once to add to their points.

It is hoped to have an "open night" at the end of the third week when parents will be invited so they can see what their children have accomplished.

Since its original sponsorship by the Lions club, the six-week program has become an essential part of the Lions club service work. This year, Stan Smith is the chairman of the club committee which administers the program and he expects a record year of attendance and accomplishment.

Miss Rowland, a graduate in physical education study, has worked several summers as an assistant in the summer program.

Mrs. Purcell is a teacher at Stuart Scott school. The emphasis during the program has been widened to include handicraft work as well as team games. There are sand-boxes and slides for the younger children and there will be croquet, baseball, softball, tennis, volleyball, and soccer.

The cost of this playground program is financed entirely by the Lions who raise most of their money for this and other kinds of service work at an annual mid-summer carnival and by means of a draw.

Seek owner of car After house damaged

The owner of a runaway car which smashed into the veranda of Earl Quinn's home at the corner of Tyler and Temperance Sts. in Aurora recently, is still being sought. The car had been parked in front of Sydney Lustie's just before it started its driverless ride. Mr. and Mrs. Quinn were away at the time with their two small children, otherwise the car might have killed or injured the children who are in the habit of playing on the porch.

ALL WITH PEDIGREES

Pigeon fancier has 20 racers

There are plenty of people who keep pigeons. But there are not too many who breed Racing Homers. When you look into the facts about this type of pigeon you find that it is a science with plenty of scope. An ardent fancier of Racing Homer pigeons in Newmarket is Mr. James Rogers, 24 Ontario St. W., Newmarket.

It was through the discovery of a lost banded pigeon last week by Mrs. J. A. Maitland which revealed that there is more pigeon activity in Newmarket than the presence of a few domesticated birds. The lost bird was an English Roller, not a racing bird, which belonged to Mr. Gibb on Second St.

It was Mr. Rogers who located the owner of the banded English Roller. At his own home however there is a flock of 20 Racing Homers which like blooded racing horses, have their own pedigrees. When they are young they are taken a few miles from their homes and allowed to fly back to their own lofts. The practice is repeated at greater distances and eventually they are trained enough to fly home from any place. Mr. Rogers says he has taken birds as far away as Montreal and in a few hours they would be back in Newmarket.

Pigeons were used extensively during the last two world wars and although they do not take as readily to flying over large bodies of water, many were carried on board ship to send messages to shore. The longest recorded flight of a homing pigeon was 7,200 miles from France to Indo China in the remarkable time of 24 days. The oldest living bird is over 30 years old, kept by an owner in Illinois. The bird was used to carry messages in the first world war.

There are races held every year in parts of Canada and the United States. One of the big annual races is the Derby Race in Toronto with a $2,000 prize. Another is the North American Classic from Hillsboro, Ill. Although Mr. Rogers does not put entries in races, he sells Racing Homers which are used. He is a member of the Canadian Racing Pigeon Union and a secretary in this district. He is allotted band numbers from 21,061 to 21,080. If anyone reports the band of a lost bird he reports it to the lost and found secretary in Hamilton who reports to the owner.

When a race is held, for instance at Hillsboro, the distance is measured by airplane to the home loft of every entry. A secretary gives the owner contestants sealed time clocks set to start at the beginning of the race. The birds are released at the centre of the race and fly home. When the owner gets his pigeon he removes the band and inserts it in a slot in the time clock. The band stops the clock and records the time of flight.

Mr. Rogers who has worked with the Davis Leather Co. for 18 years said he has kept pigeons for a long time. It is only in the last 10 or 12 years that he has had Racing Homers.

You, too, like thousands of other young fathers, can provide for your children's start in life by saving up for them our popular "5,000 Saver" Savings Plan for a cost as little as $1.00 a week...

FOREMAN RISKS ELECTROCUTION TO SAVE POWER WORKER'S LIFE

William L. Teare, of Desbarats, Ont., near Sault Ste. Marie, risks life after wire kills one man

1. A line crew of the Great Lakes Power Company was installing new power line conductors, near a line carrying 4600 volts. One conductor had been fastened and another was being pulled to position when something caused it to slip around into the live 4600 volt line! Foreman Teare shouted his men a warning.

3. With a quick blow to the shoulder, Teare knocked the second man free. At the same time he grabbed a dry glove and pulled the first man clear. Although suffering from bad burns himself, he applied artificial respiration until he knew there was no hope. Thanks to the cool courage of William L. Teare, one life at least was saved. He is fully deserving of The Dow Award.

2. But one man had already grabbed the line and was instantly paralyzed. Another headed towards him, and Teare, farther away, frantically yelled at him to stop. But he had already grabbed the first victim by the arm—and received such a severe shock that he couldn't let go! When Teare arrived, the first man had become unconscious, horribly burned.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation presented for acts of outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. The Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers, selects Award winners from recommendations made by a nationally known news organization.

says

Do you know the species of dog called Chihuahua? Seeing a picture in the paper recently recalled a summer holiday spent up at "The Briars." Sharing our cottage was a couple from St.
Catharines who owned one, and it was ever a pet. A Chihuahua is a tiny Mexican dog with short hair, and how they do love to be cuddled and kept toasty warm, for if they are at all chilly they shiver and shiver. I have an idea that a "Chihuahua" was the tiny dog in the picture called "Dignity and Impudence" (maybe not)—but it is a picture of a huge Newfoundland or some other big dog with a very small dog beside it. People don't have pictures now I hear, so perhaps that old-timer is "off the map." I know I once cut a picture out of the paper with a Chihuahua sitting in a tea cup! Perhaps somebody recalls that picture for it wasn't too long ago. They are smaller than a full grown pussy cat, but to my mind not half so preferable for a pet as a nice comfy cat.

The picture I spoke about was of Xavier Cugat, a rhumba musician, called "Hollywood's Rhumba King," and one of his show, Abbe Lane, and they are each holding a midget Chichua-hua, one called Chichi and the other Coca. From the picture the two dogs look exactly alike, identical twins, but evidently their master knows which is which.

The picture got into the paper because of a controversy over the dogs. The Royal York bars pets of all kinds, so Mr. Cugat smuggled them into his room in a hat box. However, as was inevitable, they were discovered by the chambermaid and he was told "no dogs allowed." However he seems to have won out and was allowed to keep them.
In pleading the cause of Chichi and Coca Mr. Cugat said: "These is the first sour note about Canada. Nevar heard of such a thing. Imagine little pooches like these not allowed in a great big hotel. So we move — that's all."

Often of an evening we had a jolly fire in the fireplace in our cottage at the Briars and how that little Chihuahua loved to cuddle down in my knee.
They are lovable little creatures and they demand love in return for the affection they lavish on their owners. But to my mind it is the creature comfort of being kept warm that inspires them to be always wanting to sit in somebody's lap. They are intelligent and alert. Large dark eyes and a black nose and little black mouth seem to be my recollection of the one I spoke of at The Briars, Jackson's Point—and large ears, not floppy ears but usually raised in keen interest.

Oh you can't get away from gardens after all—here's something else Mexican. The prefix
"chi" recalled another word commencing with those three letters — chinampa. Did you ever hear of a Mexican chin-ampa? Here I start with dogs, but back I come to my favorite subject of gardens. Well I'll spare you too much, but if you do not know what a chinampa is I'll tell you in a few words, and leave the subject and get back to dogs — if there is anything more to be said. It was an ancient custom in Mexico to have floating gardens in their lakes. Isn't that a quaint old custom and isn't it delightful?
Just let anybody mention the word "garden" and every other thought flies out of my head. In imagination I see myself either in my own garden or in some other person's garden, loving every flower there.

Well—I'll not bother any more about dogs—my thoughts are all on flower gardens. Oh say — there's a lovely flower named for dogs—our ox-eyed daisy, our Marguerite, is really called a "dog daisy." I like the yellow ones too — the Black-eyed Susans they are called, or "Golden Daisies," as well. There's an old song that says: "Smile, golden-eyed daisies, sweet lilv-bells ring, etc." Yes and there's another song about a petunia —
"I'm a lonely little petunia in an onion bed, won't you come and play with me?" But one would hardly compare them! Shakespere wrote one starting: "I know a bank whereon the wild thyme grows," so evidently he knew gardens and the great out-of-doors.

When you were a girl did you ever try to find out by pulling the petals off a daisy how the situation stood between you and the "boy friend." "He loves me—he loves me not." I saw a little girl the other day blowing a dandelion, gone to seed, to see what time of day it was. I

Trustees oppose Restrictions on Spending powers

A brief was tabled at the regular meeting of Whitchurch council on Saturday, signed by trustees school section No. 4, Pine Orchard, opposing any lessening of powers of public school trustees to control their own expenditures.

A proposal was put forward at the recent session of county council designed to give municipal councils some control over the expenditures of local school trustees, which it was stated had risen to record levels. The proposal would have established the right of appeal to possibly the municipal board against trustees' levies.

In the brief presented by Pine Orchard trustees they cite the claim that they, like the municipal council, are responsible to the ratepayers. Trustees, the brief stated, are non-paid, and thus non-political and their only interest is education. The diverse problems of modern education are uppermost in public administration and require specialized consideration.

The resolution stated that this board opposed any step undertaken to weaken the present organization and the authority of the public school boards.

Refuse License
A request for a wrecking license received from Stanley Hall on the Aurora road, was rejected by council. Council contended that such a permit would only create one more junk heap.

The road superintendent was instructed to erect stop signs at Bethesda, where the side roads enter the through concession.

Road superintendent Davis revealed to council that the Whitchurch police had been checking trucks coming from the Gravel Hill pit for overloading infractions. Mr. Davis stated that it was impossible to keep some of the roads in condition while trucks continued to overload their trucks. Three trucks were summonsed to court from checkpoints at the corner of the 9th con. and Stouffville recently. However, Mr.
Davis stated that when drivers became aware that they were being checked, they continued on across the side roads at Bloomington and avoided meeting the police.

The amount of $10 was ordered paid to George Sproton, lot 25, con. 4, for one sheep injured by dogs.

Approximately 29 miles of township road has received weed spray on both sides, Mr. Davis said. This is about the same amount of spraying as was done in the municipality last year.

Road accounts for the month totalled $4,040.63, which included about $1,000 for work on the north townline.

The matter of improvement for the grounds about the township hall and office came in for considerable discussion. A communication was received from the Township Conservation Club asking if something couldn't be done to make the municipal grounds a little more presentable.

It was revealed that a board of management was established for the hall and grounds more than 15 years ago, but the statement was made that the group had not met 15 times in all those years. Just how improvements of this nature should be financed will be looked into by Clerk John Crawford, who told council that it was only by the kindness of the road superintendent that one was able to look out of the township office windows, the grass had grown so high. The municipal mower had finally come to the rescue and cut the heavy growth, but a week later, ball players were still knee-deep in hay, and no more loquacious games would be allowed at Vandort until the "mess" was cleaned up.

"If you want bass" said the man at Tobermory "try Hay Bay. It is a mile or so from here."

Hay Bay turned out to be a weedy inlet at the end of a gravel road. The shore was owned by a "Babe" Simpson, registered guide, who was developing the site as a tourist resort. He had a few boats and was building cabins. "Babe" was more than happy to rent us a boat and point out the holes where "the big ones were."

So out we went with borrowed tackle and high hopes. We baited the line and tossed it out. In a minute we had the prettiest bass you ever did see, barring the fact it was under the legal size and had to be tossed back. In the next 20 minutes or so, we caught another three and lost a couple. They were all small ones but the fact that after some 20 years or so of vainly wetting lines, we were actually hooking them was enough to encourage patience. We fished another hour without any luck and called it a day.

The following morning, we were out bright and early and from the rocky shore, were excited by the shadows of the "big ones" nosing through the water. We had lines out in a trice, and were set to haul them in. With the first tentative tug on the line, we braced ourselves and gave a mighty heave. The fish was about six inches long.

We peered into the water. Yessir, the big ones were still there. We tried again, and again hooked a little one. This kept up for four hours. The big ones nosed the bait and passed on. The little ones wasted valuable time by getting themselves hooked.

We went back to Tobermory empty-handed. "Well," said the man who had advised us, "I guess the big ones aren't biting this season."

The experience puts in something of a quandary. We vowed in these columns last week to drink the Bay dry if we didn't catch a fish. We caught fish alright but they were less than the law allows so had to be thrown in. Without bias or prejudice, we ruled on the spot that the conditions were fulfilled and there was no sudden drop in the water level of the bay.

It was a lot bigger than we remembered.

Coming back from Tobermory, we drove through Flesherton, Alliston, Shelburne and Markdale, and in each centre, we were impressed by the width of their streets, and the scrubbed appearance of their stores. There was an attractive unity about their buildings. There was little or none of the miscellany or architectural styles such as is found in Newmarket.

It made these towns most attractive and seemed to endow each with its own individuality. Driving into Newmarket was an unhappy contrast. A good many visitors must feel the same way. Newmarket's attraction is not visual. Its personality lies beneath the surface but the casual visitor can hardly be expected to plumb that depth in the time at his disposal.

Dr. H. N. Wilkinson has disposed of his dental business to Dr. Hackett who takes possession August 1. He has decided to practise in Toronto. Dr. Wilkinson was originally a Schomberg boy, who graduated from Newmarket high school and Toronto College of Dentistry. He succeeded Dr. Vet. Richardson in Newmarket 15 years ago and has always taken an active part in local affairs.

Good market last Saturday. Ruling prices were butter 35 cents a lb., eggs 32 cents a doz., strawberries 15 to 18 cents a box. Green peas sold at 75 cents a small basket, new beets 6 bunches for 25 cents and carrots 5 cents a bunch.

The Editorials:

We're missing the boat

The old fur trading channel route between the islands and the Georgian Bay mainland and travelled since the time of Champlain's earliest explorations is being marked by plaques. The province is co-operating with and aiding the Georgian Bay Historical Association in this work.

The news report also indicated that the government was undertaking a province wide program of marking historical sites.

Historical sites, well marked and their stories told by literature or collections of museum pieces, are first rate tourist attractions. The Newmarket district has historical antecedents which are unique. They remain, however, a closed book for the countless visitors who pass through because little or no effort has been made to publicize them.

The fact that the government is "co-operating with and aiding" the Georgian Bay Historical Association in this work tells its own story of what an interested group can accomplish. Residents of the Georgian Bay area are historically minded and tourist conscious. The combination, plus natural endowments in the way of islands and water, has made the area a rich source of tourist dollars.

Newmarket has the advantage of a location on tourist routes but it is neither historically minded nor tourist conscious. The government is offering assistance in the development of tourist sites but it will remain an empty gesture as far as Newmarket and district is concerned unless a strong local group is organized to promote Newmarket's historical assets.

Perhaps, apart from natural apathy, the real reason for so little attention being paid to the development of historical sites is a reluctance to make a commercial attraction of sites dignified by historical association. Such an attitude is easily understood. However, the use of historical sites as a tourist attraction remains the most practical way of preserving them. The income from tourists will pay for renovation and maintenance. The inevitable alternative, as is obvious in the uncared for appearance of most sites, is eventual destruction. Far better they be maintained by tourists than lost because of the very sentiment which would preserve them.

Dairy farmers' campaign

The Dairy Farmers of Canada are planning a national advertising campaign to overtake the gap between consumption and production of dairy products. The target of the campaign is to have each Canadian family consume monthly one third lb. more cheese, four and a half pints more milk, eight oz. more butter, one-third lb. more of concentrated milks, and one more ice cream cone. If this is done, it is estimated that the present dairy products surplus will be overcome.

The advertising campaign will boost the dairy products market in competition with other foodstuffs and not be confined, as in the past, to an anti-margarine campaign. The fallacy of the latter has been all too plainly demonstrated. Before and after the removal of the embargo on margarine, the dairy farmers maintained a senseless campaign against margarine which not only lost them friends but did nothing to improve the sales of their own products.

The cost of the campaign will be financed initially by a levy on members of the Dairy Farmers of Canada of one cent a lb. of butterfat production during the month of June. This levy, it is anticipated, will provide an advertising budget of $300,000 a year. There is precedent for their campaign in the United States where dairy farmers initiated an advertising campaign in 1940 which has grown steadily until this year, the budget was $5 million.

There will be, no doubt, many farmers who question the wisdom of such an expenditure. There is not, however, an alternative worth consideration. Mrs. J. M. Earley writes in the "Packer", "Advertising is an established factor in food distribution. To get your product in to anybody's stomach these days, you have to fight for the privilege, and then fight even harder to maintain it there."

And that's just what the dairy farmers will have to do to win back the market they lost to margarine and to open new markets for their products. Anti-margarine campaigns were just not convincing to the consumer who wants only an acceptable product at a reasonable price. A vigorous campaign on behalf of their own products will carry the conviction which means more sales.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

U.S.A. makes its choice

The war news from Korea is discouraging. There is, however, some consolation in the willingness of the United States to assume the chief responsibility for halting the invasion. One major obstacle in holding back the rising tide of communist domination has been uncertainty of the United States' willingness to meet force with force. If nothing else is accomplished, the United States has shown at last that it is prepared to shoot if shooting is the only way left.

And it is also encouraging to observe the stiffening of United Nations' attitude towards aggression. In the past, what action the United Nations would take in the event of aggression has been a somewhat academic issue. The willingness of its members to commit their forces in a police action gives a new stature to that body.

What military success the United States and its allies will have in South Korea is very much in doubt at this time. What military action will lead to, no one can say. There are assurances from Washington and London that Russia does not intend to start a war over the Korean situation. Yet the fact remains that the North Koreans are fighting by proxy for Russia and if they are rebuffed, it is a rebuff of Russia with consequences heavily damaging to Russian prestige.

Yet while Korea might possibly be the spark to ignite a third world war, it is obvious too that the western world could ignore no longer the advance of communism. There had to be resistance sooner or later and we believe that for most people, the effort that is being made has relieved them of a growing uncertainty and restored a failing confidence in the will of the west to resist.

The prime minister removed whatever doubt there may be about Canada's attitude last week when he told a western audience that Canada would oppose Russian, or Russian inspired, aggression wherever it began. This forthrightness in such inflammable international situations is somewhat new to Canadian politics but it is most welcome.

There is a lot of difference between stating a policy and being able to make it stick. Is Canada in a position to oppose aggression? In terms of men and armament, we have little. Canada has, however, accomplished the unification of the three services without fanfare but with great efficiency. Our forces are small in number but our military organization is far superior to what it was in 1939.

Here is the opinion of one observer who recently studied the headquarters organization at Ottawa. George McCracken writes in the current Financial Post:

"If Canada had to go to war within a week or two, a month or two, or a year or two, we'd not be caught with our defense headquarters down as we were in 1939.

"We'd not find some of our most modern military minds in gentle exile, their ideas about mechanization and new-war theories pooh-poohed by trench-warfare minded top brass.

"We'd not have to dig the McNaughtons out of civilian jobs. We'd find most of them in our new National Defense Headquarters. And there'd be no herculean housecleaning and modernization effort for a next-war Norman Rogers to undertake.

"For today we have — or so other nations tell us — probably the most modern, best-trained, best co-ordinated and integrated defense headquarters machine of any nation west of the Iron Curtain.

"This reorganization, modernization, unification, co-ordination and integration has been going on more or less continuously ever since the end of World War II."

Editorial notes

The accident on the Davis Dr. bridge emphasizes the need for its improvement. The bridge is poorly marked and too narrow for the volume of traffic which uses it.

There are many reports which indicate that the tourist business this year will exceed in volume that of last year. There were many strangers on Main St. this week. Everything which can be done to encourage tourist spending is a sound investment.

The Lions club are continuing this year their summer playground for children of elementary school age. The playground has become a part of the Newmarket scene and the club deserves full credit for this public service.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

The town has been laying down some sidewalks near the new theatre. What was formerly the elevated route is now the up and down route. Pedestrians will be apt to get seasick.

Previously there were three or four layers of sidewalk on this portion of the Main St. The scenic west sidewalk had become the high route so that when you drove along the pavement you could admire classic ankles at a sideways glance. Store fronts were subsequently built at the same altitude.

Municipal policy recently decreed that the ancient way would be cut down to low level in the middle section near the theatre. The result is some buildings up in the air, some down level with the street and others hanging amirific. A marked advantage is in the fact that the sidewalk is narrower and the pavement is wider in this section.

As a pedestrian you must walk from one level to another either up or down a cement ramp. This correspondent sees future incidents fraught with novelty such as runaway baby carriages, frenzied inebriates, bigger and better ice slides in winter. The application of "survival of the fittest" will have a telling effect on the citizenry with the development of sea legs.

There is one marked disadvantage. The ramps have been lined with treads in the concrete for wet and icy weather, absolutely no good for roller skating runways.

Incidentally your favorite cat correspondent does not hold the town in a favorable light since the laying of the sidewalk. An imprint of the face of Ginger had been promised for the fresh concrete front of the theatre as other celebrities

When the request was made by myself to one of the senior authorities, he gave me positive assurances it would be done. "I'll push your face in it," he promised.

One of the national magazines ran a cartoon from a French Canadian newspaper advertisement. It was a picture of Adam and Eve being driven from the Garden of Eden. In the picture was a serpent in an apple tree and a flaming sword. Adam was stomping away dragging Eve with him. The caption read (translation): "Very well, I will clothe myself at Joly's." Joly being a local haberdasher.

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

On the question of membership in the Federation of Agriculture: two men were reported in the Rural Co-Operator as claiming membership in the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. Mr. Hannam, president, pointed out that there is no individual membership in the Canadian or Ontario Federation. There is individual membership in the county and township groups only.

Mr. Millburn, secretary of the Ontario federation, made an appeal in the Rural Co-Operator for a membership fee, pointing out that in the U.S.A. farmers paid as high as $15 a year into their organizations. Mr. Edgar D. Dennis, district farmer, may have started our membership fees by sending Mr. Millburn $10.

We need money to carry out our work and equally, we need interested farmers to work in the interests of farm people. Mr. Dennis not only pays his own fees but offers to solicit fees from other farmers.

This is one of the most encouraging things that has happened in our county group for some time. Most of our time is spent in trying to get the farm people to support their own business. When there are so many projects that the federation should have underway, the farm people seem to be content to go on and produce and sell at prices below the cost of production. The buying public expects the farmer to produce cheap food. The consumer may think that food is far from being cheap. When the farmers' costs are added, we farmers are getting very little for our labor. Why should a farm woman have to work for six months with a flock of chickens and in the fall, regardless of what the chickens cost, dump them on the market and take any price offered? Why must a farmer feed a litter of pigs for seven months, pay the price for feed, and when the pigs are ready for market, ship them to a packing plant with a "Please Mr. Packer, give me any price you wish. I will be satisfied."

This way of marketing is pleasant. There is no worry for the farmer. Now, along come some of these federation boys that are always stirring up trouble. What's the difference if the farmer doesn't get wages or interest on his investment? If the farmer is short on funds, he can always get a mortgage on the farm.

Then the farmer is expected to rush his work to attend federation meetings at night where a lot of fool questions are asked about condemnation insurance on stock, pro rating, etc. These charges have always been paid by the farmer. Why ask a lot of embarrassing questions? Every farmer pays and no one knows how much money is collected or used.

Some 90 percent of the dogs marketed go right to the packing plants. Now these federation boys come along and try to tell the farmer that he should sell his stock through a central selling agency when the farmer knows that shipping directly to the packing plant is the best way to market because both the packers and the truckers say so. The packers even invite the farmers down to the plant and have afternoon tea. Then the federation boys are after the price of coarse grain. Now, these men that speculate in grain have to have a living. True we did get along nicely without speculation in grain during the war.

Is there any wonder that the federation is making slow progress when its policies are so different from what the farmer has been used to. Contentment and progress never make good bedfellows. Cheerio.

An Aurora Opinion

By

DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

Something drastic must be done to shock the driving public into the realization that highway tragedies are not just newspaper stories. Six lives were snuffed out Friday because of carelessness. Because it does not have any personal impact on our own lives we are inclined to read about it casually and then turn to the radio column or the funnies. If we are sensitive to the misfortunes of others we shudder a little and breathe a sigh of relief that we were not at that very spot at that particular moment.

There must be some program of education that will impress itself upon our drivers that the Highway Traffic act is not merely a little blue paper bound booklet and that the white lines painted on the highways are not meant for decoration. Aside from the lives that are lost every day, the injuries, in many instances crippling for life, are not alone the total sum of disaster. The financial waste is colossal.

It is impossible to drive five miles on any well travelled highway without observing some motorist breaking the law, cutting in, crossing the solid line to pass or speeding.

Gruesome as the idea may appear if a white cross for every life lost were to be placed beside the highway at the spot where a fatality had occurred it might be a visible means of making our motorists conscious of the fact that a car can be a deadly weapon. Probably if the crosses were used there would be an immediate criticism that the highways would be cluttered with morbid reminders that would spoil the pleasure of this mode of travel. But man is a peculiar animal. Unless he has visible evidence he is not easily impressed with the seriousness of the possibility of an accident. Many who would not dream of stealing a grape from his neighbor's arbor will steal the inches on the highway that may mean another white cross.

We have heard the opinion expressed that the present driver's test should be improved upon. Instead of one test entitling a driver to a new licence every year until his arteries harden and his eye sight fails completely, there should be an annual test. This should include a physical examination as well as the present test to determine a driver's ability to operate a machine.

NEWMARKET MAN WED TO AURORA BRIDE
Rev. William Orr Mulligan performed the wedding Saturday of Margaret Rosella, daughter of Mrs. Green, and the late William Green, Aurora, to Lawrence Alfred Goldsmith, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Goldsmith, Newmarket.

An archway of orange blossoms and wedding bells formed the setting for the ceremony in the large foyer of the Ridge Inn, Oak Ridges. Gowned in pink embossed organdie over pink satin, made with raglan sleeves and ballerina-length skirt, the bride wore a bandeau of the same material trimmed with real flowers and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and bouvardia.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Andrew Rose, as matron of honor. Mrs. Rose chose pale blue embossed organdie over satin made with a scalloped neck line and cap sleeves. With this she wore a bandeau of real flowers to match her bouquet of yellow roses and blue corn flowers.

Little Karen Rose, flower girl in full length frock of yellow sheer over taffeta, carried a miniature colonial bouquet of yellow daisies. Mr. Andrew Rose acted as groomsman and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Ken Giles.

Mrs. Green received the guests smartly attired in grey tissue faille, navy hat and a corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by Miss Florence Goldsmith, sister of the groom, who chose figured pink sheer for her dress, with black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

A wedding supper was enjoyed by 50 guests. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and summer garden flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldsmith left for Montreal where they will take a cruise on the Saguenay River. The bride travelled in a dusty pink gabardine suit, and white hat trimmed with flowers. She also wore a mink neckpiece. On their return they will reside in Aurora.

The need for such clothing remains as desperate as ever and further shipments will be made in the fall by the association.

MARKHAM BESTS AURORA
Markham midgets bested Aurora 9-5 in an exhibition midget tilt last Thursday night. Bosanko and Petch formed a smart battery for the visitors, while Duffett was another star. Andy Closs pitched a fine game for Aurora and outfielder Bob Dinnner cracked out a homer to drive in three runs.

Pupils of Mr. Gibson in theory and harmony: Sheila Davison, Grade 1 theory, first class honors, completing her Grade 6 piano certificate; Gay Morning, Grade 4, harmony, pass, completing Grade 10 piano certificate.

Extra Teacher
Two new teachers have been engaged for Oak Ridges school, one of these being an addition to the staff, making nine on the teaching staff. As of last term up until Easter, classes will be staggered probably in three grades to take care of increased enrolment in September, 1950.

These classes will be in force from 8 to 12 noon, from 12.30 to 4.30 p.m., trustee R. J. Woolley said. Until such time as further accommodation can be arranged the present school will take the burden of the increasing school population. The award to establish a new school section at Lake Wilcox will shortly be posted after which 30 days are allowed for appeals, said J. Crawford, clerk of Whitechurch township. The decision for the award has been reached by the arbitration board, after careful study. The board includes public school inspectors, Mr. C. Howitt and Mr. O. M. McKillop; municipal clerks, H. G. Rose and John Crawford, and Judge C. Shea. As a Union School Section of King and Whitechurch townships, both municipalities carry responsibility.

New Secretary-Treasurer
G. O. T. Gamble, C.F.R.B. side-road, has been appointed secretary-treasurer for Union S.S. 1, King and Whitechurch to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Sprague Troyer. Three applications for the position were received by the board of trustees.

Land in Hayfield
William Starkey, 21, Aurora, and Gordon Foeler, 20, of Oak Ridges, are none the worse of a highway accident which wrecked their car on Yonge St. north of Richmond Hill last Friday night. Side-swiped by a north-bound truck, the car, driven by Starkey was hurled 250 feet off the highway, landing in a hayfield after turning end on end. The men climbed unhurt from the badly wrecked vehicle. Starkey told police the truck pulled out of line to pass traffic before hitting the car.

At Hawkstone Guide Camp
Thirty Girl Guides of York District will leave July 31 for the Hawkstone Camp for Toronto Area, where they will remain for ten days. They will represent Guide companies from Oak Ridges, Scarborough, Richmond Hill, Richvale, Newmarket, Schomberg and Thornhill. Commandant for the camp for York District is Captain Joyce Healey, Thornhill; second commandant, Lieut. Wood of Richvale; Christian Lattimer of Sutton is Brown Owl; Tawney Owl, Mary Morrison of Scarborough is quarter-master. Mrs. M. Hewitt, Toronto, is chief commandant of the area camp.

Lions Ball Club
Oak Ridges juvenile softball team sponsored by the Lions club is swinging into action in full form. An exhibition game was played on Tuesday night against King boys in King Memorial Park.

Mr. John Gregory and his bride of a year motored from Connecticut to Oak Ridges last week to spend a few days at Ridge Inn. They left for home on Tuesday morning. Mr. Gregory was formerly in business at Oak Ridges and has made several trips back to this district in the past two years or more. He is 72 years of age.

Vacation time finds Ridge Inn the scene of much activity. A recent Sunday recorded 70 guests at Ridge Inn.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Wittal of Oak Ridges at York County hospital July 2.

Report of W.I. Meeting at King
The first district annual meeting of Centre York Women's Institute was held at the United church, King City, early in June. The branches belonging to the district are: Aurora, Bogartown, Gormley, Kettleby, Laskay, King, Nobleton, Pine Orchard, Schomberg, Schomberg Jr., Snowball, Temperanceville, Vandorf.

The president, Mrs. R. H. Corner of Aurora, was in the chair. After the opening exercises, the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Fred Hare of King, gave her report.

Rev. Jenkinson gave the address of welcome. He said that man was indebted to women. God fashioned man and then when man was lonely God gave him Eve. God created man and rested and then God created woman and neither God nor man has rested. He said the achievements of the Women's Institute was glorious. Women came from a long lineage of Eve, Deborah, Lydia and Mary. Mrs. E. Reddick gave the reply.

Mrs. R. Armitage of Pine Orchard gave her report on agriculture and Canadian industries. Industry is the best cure for trouble, she said. Some of the contests and papers given by the Institute were: a questionnaire, "Who's who in Agriculture?" History of Agriculture, Care of Eggs and Grading, Demonstration Fall and Winter Bouquets, Talk given on Pottery, Sale of Plants and Bulbs, Visit to Local Industry, a package of vegetable and a package of flower seeds given to each child. A debate was held on: "Resolved that the soil is the foundation of the nation." One branch said, "To be happy, get a garden."

Mrs. G. Shoultz of Schomberg gave the report on home economics and health. Branches had "Beauty Hint," "Style and Color of Mother's Wedding Dress," "Uses of Aspirin," "Famous Doctor," "Dressmaking Course, 4 1/2 Days," donated pabulum for children, ironing contest, table setting, taking temperature, candy demonstration, demonstration of weaving, chest x-ray, held auction sale at end of meeting.

Mrs. Hill gave historical research and current events report. To understand the present, we must understand the past, she said. How many generations have you been a resident of Canada? Period furniture, guest speaker from Finland, farming yesterday and today, History of the Anchor, History of Farms, History of van Nostrand's Mill at Vandorf, historical pictures, views of old time costumes, were some of the topics. Six active charter members presented with 50 years' achievement pins.

Mrs. Howard Cane of Newmarket spoke on the needs of York County hospital. The speaker said there were no funds and no endowment behind York County hospital. There are 61 beds, three public wards, men's, women's, and maternity ward. In 1949 there were 2,224 patients, 369 babies born and 2,019 x-rays given. Every patient has a free chest x-ray. There were 8,377 meals served.

Mrs. A. Farren of Kettleby gave the report on citizenship and education. Some of the roll calls and papers given by the Institute were: How we can help new citizens; Quality I most admire in a friend; Education is learning things you should know; What goes into the making of a good citizen; Home beautification; Women can do something about the government; If we put our head and heart into anything, we can get anything we want; Citizenship Day is May 23; Is anybody happier because you passed this way?

Mrs. A. Colville of Bogartown gave report on community activities and public relations. The public is reaching out to other lands. Had posters on art and photography, advertised by radio, word of mouth, newspaper and telephone. John Meyer of the Newmarket Era and Express spoke on publicity. Dorothy Starr spoke on India and Francis Starr showed pictures obtained while working with the Friend's Ambulance Unit in India. Mrs. Sylema of Pine Orchard spoke on Holland where she had recently visited. Mrs. Wilcox of Aurora spoke on Africa. A flag was presented to the Girl Guides, donations to Newmarket Rest Room, York County hospital, etc.

Mrs. A. Monkman read the resolutions. A resolution is being sent to the National Film Board to have Canadian films depicting Canada in place of the U.S. films. Pine Orchard Institute had sent in a resolution to have school fairs renewed.

Mrs. R. Armitage told of the Federation of Agriculture. Women in the federation have a great job to do, she said. Men need women to keep the purse strings. Women must be able to take their place any place. Women can help organize Farm Forums. It was suggested that if each Women's Institute would donate more to the Federation, they would have two voting delegates instead of only one. The Farm Forum is the most popular program on the radio. The Federation is ready and willing to help farmers. Why don't the farm people support the Federation? It is good business for the farmers to invest in the Federation of Agriculture.

The president, Mrs. Corner, said York county was donating $50 to each of the four Yorks. She said they felt it would be a good thing to have a scholarship from York county, total cost $2,000. Mrs. Corner had a pamphlet of Dr. Schindler's address given in the December Reader's Digest on "How to live Happy for a 100 Years."

Miss D. Burke, departmental representative, took up the selection of co-operative program. Although the district could have had "Foods that Healthy Children Like" as an extra service, most of the Institutes chose that as a first choice so that is what the district will have as their program.

After the wonderful luncheon served at the United church, there was community singing led by Mrs. A. Colville of Bogartown Institute. After the roll call, Mrs. van Nostrand of Vandorf gave the report of the nominating committee.

The question of the Manitoba Flood Relief was brought up. A donation was given by Centre York. It was also suggested that the branches give towards this work. Mrs. J. R. Fletcher of St. Thomas, president of the F.W.I.O., would receive the donations. Bogartown Institute was the only Institute at that time apparently which had already donated towards this work through the Bank of Montreal.

A motion was brought forward to have two women on the York county board for the Industrial Home.

Mrs. R. Armitage and Mrs. A. Farren gave the report of the Guelph Conference which they attended as delegates from Centre York.

Music was provided by Temperanceville Institute. Miss Janet Langdon of King sang.

Mrs. D. McCutcheon, Schomberg, gave the report on the Schomberg Jrs. They have 20 paid members and an average attendance of 12. Topics are selected for age group. They had made $137 for Manitoba Flood Relief.

Miss L. Barber spoke on the Junior Institute. Laskay and Pine Orchard had "The Girl Club Entertained." Pine Orchard had also completed the Clothes Closet project under Mrs. D. Hope and Mrs. R. McClure.

Mrs. Kennedy, Federated Director, said "Good Humor Helps." We should be definite in making out cheques and cashing them promptly. The pin for the Institute is 80 cents. The bar is extra. See page 22 in the Hand Book re Life Memberships. The government and the consumer all have an eye on us. What was good enough for grandfather wasn't good enough. See that the weed inspector does his duty. Encourage your community to plant new trees every time one is cut down. Home and country and home making is the essence of living. Study what women can do on soil conservation. Study how to get doctors in rural communities and how to get dental services in rural schools. Be sure you make good use of home and country.

"A girl from India is writing her thesis about the Women's Institute. You can obtain loan library books from the department regarding England. Take greater interest in the school and attend school meetings. Tomorrow's mentally-ill children may be today's children. A book of songs will be ready for the convention, at a price of 50 cents. The Associated Countrywomen of the World are meeting in Amsterdam and five voting members are from Ontario."

The speaker challenged us to live up to the motto. The speaker said women have 51 percent of the voting power. The week of July 10, farm women may go to Guelph under the Department of Public Relations for $1.50 a day. A bus load of farm women may go for a day and get their dinner free.

In the morning, Mrs. Watson of West York brought greetings from West York District. Mrs. E. Armstrong brought greetings from North York District. She told of a boy who had joined the navy because everything was so spic and span. After he had been in the navy a week, he wrote home and said, "I joined the navy because everything was so spic and span and now I have found out who keeps them spic and span."

After Mrs. Kennedy's talk, the resolutions were voted on and the election of officers took place. The meeting closed with God Save The King.

There was a display of smocking, leather work and costume jewelry.

Unemployment Insurance Unpaid, given fine
For failing to collect unemployment insurance contributions from six employees and submitting the employer's portion during the period November, 1948, to November, 1949, Eric Albert Gardiner, Aurora contractor, was fined the full amount due, $221.49, plus an additional $25 and costs or 30 days by Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake.

E. H. Griffin, unemployment insurance inspector, said he had asked for Gardiner's records which were made available to him at the home of the accused in February. The sum found to be due was $229.36. Gardiner had paid $7.87 of this total. Joe Dales appearing for the accused said that the case was one of neglect rather than evasion.

Council makes First move towards Sewage disposal plant
The Newmarket council has made an initial move toward building a sewage disposal plant. On Monday night council approved of engaging a firm of engineers, Proctor, Redfern and Laughlin for the purpose of designing a plant.

It has been suggested that a plant be built large enough to accommodate a population of 10,000. The engineers are expected to choose the proper site for the location of the plant.

Last week Dr. A. E. Berry, deputy minister of health for Ontario, gave a report to council on the analysis of the Holland River. He told how to go about the construction of a disposal plant and advised that one be built for Newmarket.

The resolution to engage the engineers was made to council by Reeve Arthur D. Evans who is interested in the proposed project. Mr. Evans said that it would not be likely that the plant would be started this year but that much preliminary work could be accomplished.

Murder or Suicide
By HOWARD MORTON

Every time you read the second chapter of Avon popular mysteries you find the master detective faced with the problem of deciding whether it was murder or suicide.

Today, on our highways, we find our police officers too often faced with the same problem. Many times, they reach the conclusion that it was both.

Aside from humanitarian considerations, you will find that those engaged in the sale and maintenance of motor vehicles have a selfish interest (but a worthy one) in attempting to reduce this terrible slaughter.

Public opinion is, without a doubt the most powerful weapon we have ever known, and when public opinion is aroused to sufficient pitch, we are bound to have action.

At the rate the slaughter on our highways is increasing, it is only a matter of time until more stringent laws are passed, laws which will reduce the carnage will, in all probability, restrict the sale and operation of motor vehicles. Such restrictions would hit those who live off the motor vehicle trade right where it will hurt the most, in the pocket-book.

It is reasonable to believe, then, that all of us in the trade have an extra interest in the safe and sane and courteous operation of all motor vehicles.

I am living at Indianola Beach for the summer and I believe I see a fair cross-section of selfish driving. Each weekend, from Friday noon until Monday noon, the cars using the third concession pass by at a rate of thousands every few hours. From observation of their driving, I would suggest that very few have ever been instructed about the purpose of the highway division lines painted there for their protection.

No one has ever told me how much paint the province and the counties use to paint these division lines but it must run into thousands of gallons each year. Those lines, if respected, give us information as to when we may safely pass and when we must stay in line.

Let's give it a try this weekend. Let's resolve to cross the painted lines only where they are broken and then, only when we are sure that there is no approaching traffic.

The engineers who laid out the lines know the road. They know the danger that lies over the crest of the next hill, and that solid line is their way of telling you the odds are you will never make it.

Morton Bros. join with the Garage Operators of York County in the promotion of this safety campaign. Let us make sure our cars are mechanically sound, our drivers physically fit, and let us all use a little more courtesy and common sense when in control of our motor vehicles.

IT'S A Woman's World

BY CAROLINE ION

The attitude of society to youthful offenders has changed greatly since 1908 when the Juvenile Delinquents Act was passed by the Parliament of Canada. By this act the provinces were given authority to set up juvenile courts and the foundation of the present system of juvenile-family courts was established.

There are more than 41 areas in Ontario today where such courts are in operation. In Toronto-Family Court during 1948 close to 10,000 adults and children received help with their problems. The Toronto Family Court is presided over by Judge Hawley S. Mott, a position which he has held for more than 30 years. Besides Judge Mott there are three deputy judges, a full-time psychiatrist and two consultants, a social investigator and 14 probation officers.

Contrary to popular beliefs there has been a decrease in delinquency during the years since the establishment of these courts, but each year sees more parents perplexed with the difficulty of coping with problem children voluntarily seeking the assistance of the court in straightening out youthful emotional disturbances or other troubles.

Judge Mott has said, "We find in our court that parents are most ready to co-operate and help. Seldom do we meet parents who are grossly neglectful as far as the delinquent child is concerned but we often meet them confused and baffled not knowing what to do and quite concerned about their difficulty."

As a result of this changing attitude many more children are brought into court by their parents looking for help and guidance than are brought in by the authorities. It is impossible to estimate in how many cases this precautionary action has prevented children committing graver offences.

There is a widely held but mistaken impression that the street gangs which have gained such unfavorable publicity in Toronto consist of juvenile delinquents. But Judge Mott points out that there are very few, if any, juveniles in these gangs. The term, "juvenile delinquent" applies to children under sixteen years of age and over seven. The gang problems are caused by boys 16 years and over.

Since the organization of this court its scope has been widened to include many kinds of domestic troubles as well as juvenile offences. Besides those mentioned it has jurisdiction in matters concerning neglected children and deserted wives. It is estimated that in 1950 close to $600,000 in support monies will be paid through the court. The emphasis in its administration is on human rather than purely legalistic considerations and it strives to adjust difficulties of children or adults without a courtroom appearance.

50 MEMBERS OF BRICE FAMILY HAVE REUNION

A Brice family reunion was held at the Scout hall on July 2 when about 50 members of the family gathered to help celebrate the occasion with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brice. Present besides the many grandchildren and great-grandchildren were their four children: (Gladys) Mrs. Ted Mitchell, Newmarket, (Linda) Mrs. Ernest Colley, Toronto, Fred Brice, Detroit, and Reginald Brice, Port Hope.

The family came from Bristol, England, in 1911 and settled in Newmarket where they have resided for the past 39 years.

Mrs. Brice was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers while Mr. Brice received a purse of money. A large appropriately decorated cake climaxed the delicious refreshments which were served at the close of the happy family gathering.

Do You Know what I consider the most precious gems of my cupboard? My homemade jams and jellies! The ruby red strawberry and raspberry jam and jellies, the deep rich amethyst grape, the garnet plum, all sparkling on my cupboard shelf, make me feel a regular miser. I can't resist putting up my favourites, especially when Certo Fruit Pectin is such a sure recipe, and it saves up to 2/3 the time it formerly took with the long boil method. With Certo, too, I can get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit. Try CERTO FRUIT PECTIN when you're jamming and jellifying, and see the wonderful results you get by following exactly the tested recipes on the booklet under the label of every Certo bottle.

Light 'n' Fluffy As A Summer Cloud — that's the way cakes should be! And I've proved to myself over and over again that SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR makes the lightest, fluffiest cakes in the world! That's because Swans Down is sifted over and over again until 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. And the wonderful results show in cakes like this — Banana Cake...

(1 egg and 1 egg yolk)
2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
1 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
Sift flour once, mix baking powder, soda, salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter, add sugar, gradually, cream until light and fluffy. Add eggs, beat well; then add bananas and beat again. Add flour to creamed mixture, alternately with milk, all amount at a time, beat smooth after each addition. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) about 25 minutes. Spread vanilla frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Wonderful with fresh berries!

Just As You Like Them... I've discovered tea and coffee that are truly tops in taste... served hot or cold as you like. Yes, there's an ideal of quality behind RED ROSE TEA AND COFFEE that's bound to make them good! I can tell you how very good Red Rose Tea is — but you can tell best by tasting it for yourself. From the first flavourful sip, it's obvious that Red Rose is good tea. And because it's quality tea, it actually gives more cups to the pound — its flavour goes a long, long way! Red Rose Coffee is as good as Red Rose Tea. Always fresh — always flavourful — once you've tasted this full-bodied coffee, you'll never be satisfied with any other!

Cold meats for summers
Meat prepared in the cooler morning hours and put away so that it is ready to serve cold, gives the homemaker a good start on the dinner. It is a simple matter to prepare several of the vegetables which are abundant and delicious and thus serve what might be called a hot dinner with a minimum time in the kitchen on a hot afternoon.

The cold plate with crisp greens, a piquant salad and a slice or mould of cold meat often seems to be the perfect answer to summer menu problems. Such dinners satisfy both the cook and the members of the family.

Pressed or potted meat, once a standby in every household, has been forgotten by many because of the variety of ready-to-eat meats now on the market. Jellied meats and meat loaves as well as the pressed meat recipes are ways in which economical cuts of meat may be used and made ready to serve for cool meals on hot days.

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN
Teenagers Need Home Help
Bette, a teen-ager, needs a steady influence at home to save her from being a social outcast.

In Bette's instance, her parents are too busy with their own social engagements, that their teen-age daughter has been given freedom too advanced for her ability to assume responsibilities.

Her parents allow her to entertain boy friends at home on nights they are out of town. Besides, she is allowed weekend mixed parties with an excuse for a chaperone—a young lady in her early 20's, who wasn't really as responsible as some teen-agers.

When Bette's parents are questioned concerning the freedom they allow their daughter, they simply reply, "We can trust our daughter". Other parents feel properly squelched. However, not many of the other parents are convinced that Bette is a good example for their daughters. When other parents object to their teen-agers on unchaperoned parties, their offspring act insulted and humiliated, "Don't you trust us? Bette's parents trust her."

Actually, allowing freedom to teen-agers shouldn't be based on the matter of trusting them. Youthful exuberance and emotional unsteadiness are characteristic of teen-agers. Until they are passed through these "growing into maturity" stages, they need and require a steady home influence to safeguard their actions.

During the formative years of "growing into maturity", characters and personalities are developing. Principles and habits of a high calibre must be firmly established to withstand temptations and pitfalls that currently engulf a large percentage of "follow the sheep" humanity.

There is nothing more important to teen-agers than a steady home influence that assists through example and understandingly relinquishes limitations as the teen-ager proves himself capable of assuming responsibilities — yet limits freedoms under social propriety codes.

The Common Round...
By Isabel Inglis Colville
WE WONDER

Most of us just now are wondering if Canada is the safe and peaceful harbor in a storm-tossed world that we imagined it to be. Our eyes turn north-west to where the Russian bear lies growling and then uncomfortable, turn south to where the American eagle screams defiance.

No one likes or wants to be caught in a trap. Canadians don't — Belgians didn't either. But who can read the stars?

We are dealing with pagan forces — forces partly Oriental, partly Occidental — and the combination in this case does not bring out the best in either. Wasn't it Kipling who said, "East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet"? Well they have met and the result is unforseeable.

But we wonder about nice things too—about how birds and animals talk—how they tell one another where food is to be found; why a spruce tree always "lifts its arms to pray," while an elm droops like a lovely canopy, and why two persons from the same home can turn, one to crime and one to philanthropy.

I don't think I ever wondered how a bride came to wear white satin with a train and a coronet until I found what I, at any rate, considered the answer. Last Tuesday, I was Mrs. Elgin Evans guest at the Sharon W.I. picnic at Spring Water Park at Midhurst. I was supposed to fill Mr. Evans' shoes. Well I didn't do that, but I imagine I got as much fun out of the picnic as he would have.

The weatherman prophesied storms, but we left Sharon on a morning, beautiful with the beauty that is truly Canadian and carrying with us the perfume of Mrs. Evans' bed of roses which sent errant whiffs after us as we waited for the bus.

It made everyone comfortable and relaxed to have Johnny Hines lead the way from group to group in his car and so see that no one was forgotten and everyone seated satisfactorily. Our driver was careful and considerate and the countryside rich in a wonderful hay crop and dotted with contented cows who lay about and listened usually to one orator (?) who stood in, their midst. Maybe they discussed the price of butter and the threat of margarine, or maybe just reflected that the hay crop promised winter comfort. Who knows!

Last Wednesday brought the sad news to all of us here at Brownhill of the death of Stanley Miller, better known to some folks as Ham Miller. He passed away Wednesday, July 5, at the Toronto General hospital after an illness of three days. He was a diabetic for years. It was surprising that he could accomplish the work he has been doing and the week previous to his death had been working on a barn wall at Ed. Rae's and all spring building sidewalks and chimneys.

All of us at Brownhill wish to express our deepest sympathy to his only child, Betty, who has been working in Toronto, who was right by her dad until the end, and to Mrs. Sarah Miller with whom Mr. Alexander made his home. To Mrs. Alexander who will miss this grandson so very much, to all the brothers, George, Hilliard, Leslie, Ted and Frank.

The service was preached by Rev. John King and assisted by Rev. Nathaniel Bosko. Many attended the funeral from Sutton, Toronto, Sunderland and Brownhill. Pallbearers were Ivan Bailey, Clinton Bailey, Hilliard Miller, Stanley Wilson, Roy Crouch, Grant Bones.

WEEKLY Garden graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Canadian

You may have subversive agents working underground in your vegetable garden. Among them may be wireworms, one of the most destructive soil insects. They feed on the roots of young corn, potatoes and many other root crops and vegetables. They are usually more numerous on sod and land turned up the previous year. They are also found frequently where the ground is low and mucky and where drainage is poor. They are also frequently found in light soils.

Wireworms are especially fond of young corn, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. The plants attacked by wireworms soon begin to look sickly. When such plants are dug up, it will be found that the worms have eaten practically all the roots.

One method of ridding the home vegetable garden of wireworms is to trap them by appealing to their greediness. Place slices of carrot or potato, two inches deep in the soil, a foot apart. Have these pieces spitted with a small stick, as illustrated, so they can easily be pulled up. The wireworms will be found clinging to the bait. They can then be dropped into a can of kerosene or otherwise destroyed.

Other methods of control of wireworms involve deep mid-summer cultivation and heavy fertilizing. The cultivation exposes the wireworms to insect-eating birds. Wood ashes worked into the soil will help to discourage wireworms. Late fall plowing kills many of the pupae and adults of the wireworms by breaking open the earthen cells in which the worms are developing, for they are the larvae of the click beetle.

Another word of warning, do not plant potatoes in soil on which grasses or clover have recently been growing, for the wireworms are apt to get them if you do.

The park board held a meeting in the town hall on Thursday evening last and while they asked the public to attend, the attendance was small. Reeve Ken Ross was in the chair.

A financial report of Sports Day was given by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Murray Stokes, in which she told the total receipts for the day were $1,530.38; total expenses $861.12, which leaves $669.26 for the running expenses of keeping up the park grounds.

Since the building of the town hall, it has been in charge of three police trustees and as they are also on the park board, it was always a mystery to many just who was in charge of the park and who looked after the hall. So from now on, the one board will be in charge of both park and hall, namely the park board, and it's up to the community to help along this work which means so much to everyone. We have a park and hall to be proud of. Let's keep them nice and not destroy the things given us to enjoy.

PANTS

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

Journeys around the softball circuits convince us of one thing: no two umpires interpret the new ruling on O.A.S.A. books this year the same way. Some go so far as to say it isn't a new rule. Recent clarification came along from the O.A.S.A. that may help clear it up or make it more difficult.

It's headed Rule Clarification

Three Foot Line, Rule 48, Sec. 6: "If, in running the last half of the distance from home base to first base, while the ball is being fielded to first base, he runs outside the three-foot line, in the opinion of the umpire, wilfully interferes with the fielder taking the throw at first base, except that he may run off the base-line to avoid a fielder attempting to field a batted ball, runner is out."

Further note goes on like this, "If the runner runs on or inside the baseline and in any way interferes with the play being made at first base, he should be called out. Unless there is a play at first base and an interference with that play, the runner is not to be called out for running outside the three-foot line."

So help me, that's what they say. Oh, you want to know about the three foot line — "a line marked from half-way from home to first and three feet outside the regular base-line". Ted Summers umpire-in-chief sticks strictly to the letter of the rule and a good many would-be runners are finding out that rule means something.

For the first time Newmarket can get a lower classification and can enter Intermediate B this year — and we have no one to take advantage of it. Wouldn't have to tackle New Toronto Legion — makes us happy to think about that. Say why not enter an all-star team from the town league in O.A.S.A. Quite a good team there. Cost a few bucks but would keep Newmarket on the softball map.

Touched down on Orillia for a few days on our holiday excursion. Good to see progress being made on Orillia's new ice palace. Saw the plans this week. Call for 1,800 seating capacity, 1,500 standees—in many respects a duplicate of Collingwood arena. Volunteer work crew is pouring concrete at present. Surprising number of towns following Newmarket's foot-steps in this respect. Two blocks west of present arena. At our own arena, concrete should be poured and new flooring ready for use early August. Most arenas are finding big time wrestling best summer revenue producer.

Ken Broughton is one of mainstays of the Orillia pitching corps. This is Orillia's first year in intermediate ball for 15 years. That center has always gone for softball in big way. Switched over to big diamond sport. Ken went full nine innings last week against Collingwood for a 10-5 win. "Broughton" also finds time to coach the Orillia ladies in Barrie and District Softball League. Latter now set with new uniforms and are sponsored by Orillia Bus Lines.

Here we go again. Back on subject brought up over past couple of weeks. Saw what other towns, smaller than the Hub, are doing and am more convinced than ever of the need for full time paid recreation director. So many things could be going in the evenings to keep the young nippers out of trouble. Need is right now during summer holidays. Don't believe we would regret any dough put out in this direction.

Recommendation or request dept: to umpires, especially Bob Peters holidaying at Snake

Island: See Bill Bendix in "Kill the Ump." "Dutch" Forhan and Bill Haskett are carrying on in Lake Simcoe southern division while Bob's away. Know he'll be just waiting to get back on the job and quip with "always said it takes two good guys to take my place". Will have to agree too.

Say these holidays have not confused. Thought our senior gals still holidaying this week but find they have a home game tonight against Stransman's. In the Lake Simcoe Junior circuit, Sutton holds lead, Newmarket second. Home game here next Tuesday against the league leaders. Last place Keswick is moving up. Has beaten both front runners in last two starts. Joyce Porter of Keswick has taken over secretary-treasurer job in junior ladies circuit.

Between four and eight per cent of the population is left handed.

Mounties up on top in Lake Simcoe loop

Mount Albert is on top to stay, to hear their supporters tell it. It may be wishful thinking but with Ken Mitchell steaming 'em over, who can tell? Mount made the leap to top rung with a 9-5 trimming of Pine Orchard, erstwhile leaders. Though hits were split even at six, Pine Orchard errors gave Ted Tidman a rough time of it for six frames.

Ivan Eves worked the seventh, walked two, then whiffed next three. Kelly Case unloaded the heavy artillery for Mount with a homer and double for three rbi's. Hal Watts had two singles, Ross Draper a three bagger. Orchard's bat load was shattered by Doug Hope with two, extra base punch by Bill Dike triple, Noel Ash double and Harry Brammer two sacker.

The Mount's other win was at the expense of Vandorf, 6-3. Mitchell had help from Don Walker. The "Dorfers" got one bingle, that by Jim Preston. Kelly Case, Harold Watts and Ken Mitchell supplied swatting music for winners.

Ron Kester is back in form which means Zephyr is on the way up — won two over the week. Superised tottering Willow Beachers on the lake shore 9-5. Kester had two triples and a double. Ches Lunney nicked Cec. McNeill for triple, double and single. Ted Anderson tripled twice, Bob Wynch had two doubles. Beach loaded 'em up in the seventh, cashed in three runs — rally halted with sacks populated.

Victory two for the Blues at home, 11-3 over Vandorf. Harry Lavender worked three, Harold Botham four for "Dorfers." Vandorf had Ron Kester in trouble in first, cashed in their three runs but that was all. Power-hungry swinging of Ches. Lunney, Ray Taylor, Lester Rizley wrapped it up with seven in the third.

Ab Boak and his merry men didn't count it a lost week completely trimmed up on Queensville 15-8. Ivan Eves made first start on Pine Orchard mound, called on "Josh" Preston and Ted Tidman to complete it. Bruce Pegg and Bob English for Queensville. Bob Shropshire with four, Harry Brammer with three. Rev. Elsby, new find, at Queensville first sack. Bill Burkholder, Bill Smith and Bob English enjoying well stocked hitting stand.

OPEN DIAMOND TONIGHT

There'll be a hot time at the Fair Grounds tonight. The Optimists have their diamond completed. As an opener, the local Optimists have lined up a challenge game with their counterparts from Keswick. Jack Hamilton indicates this is the first of a series with Keswick for the North York Optimists crown.

Jr. Ladies lose at home To Keswick 7-3

The way Charlie Stevens has Keswick junior ladies hustling about their softball chores these fine evenings, make one mistake and it's your finish. That's what Newmarket junior ladies found out Tuesday when Keswick made it two in a row over our gals with a 7-3 victory.

The teams traded a pair of runs in the third Keswick took command on a walk and two errors in the fifth and never relinquished it, tallying three in sixth and completing their scoring in the seventh Newmarket's third and final corner came in the sixth. Marlene Martin and Jean McDonald had two hits each of seven for our gals. Keswick picked up nine hits, Barbara Foster, Mary O'Brien, and Eleanor Clements with two each.

"Best crowd of the season - league leading Sutton here next Tuesday. We're out to trim the leaders," says coach Reg. Ball.

Aurora town league Roffs into action

The four-team Aurora Town Softball League rolled into action last week. In the opening tussle, Merchant hung a stink-roo on Harts 21-0. Collis Leath made it two in a row and boosted themselves out front with a 28-12 triumph over Merchants. "Red" Castle's relief chucking, after the Merchants climbed onto Geo. "Hoppy" Hodgins on Tannery mound for eight runs in their first swatting, gave Collis their 28-12 win over Merchants.

Ron. Simmons, Merchants hurler, getting a good going over the leather-maker swingers. In the Collis 20-11 win over the Town "Red" Castle went the route. Earl Macdonald and Mickey Sutton sharing the losers' mound chores.

company. Latter lives in Sutton, thus ineligible. Willow Beach games stand as played. Queensville having difficulty continuing is allowed use of Judd Rutledge and Rev. Elsby. One catch — all Queensville games regardless of outcome are credited as a win for the opposition. Just a little over two weeks to go to complete the schedule.

Postponed games, tonight, Vandorf at Pine Orchard.

Then brief addresses were given by Mr. Neil H. Anderson, and Mrs. J. S. Cheateley expressing thanks to Mrs. Cowieson for the lovely gift to the school, to the ladies who so kindly helped

Atomics, Hope tied in exhibition series

Town "Atomics" and Hope Simcoe Leaguers will have to stage a rubber match. They're tied at a game apiece in their current exhibition series. Hope turned on their full batting power to walk to a 13-6 triumph on their home Sharon diamond. Towners out-slugged the visitors for a 17-14 win on Monday.

Monday's game was a battle of big innings. Hope looked destined to walk away with it stashing 10 runs in the kitty in the second. Towners got in a hitting mood in the fifth and matched the Hope production. This, coupled with an early lead, gave the Atomics the win. Ivan Gibson with two and Herb Cain with one were Town home run smashers. Ross Eves socked a base-circler for Hope.

Sodbusters win 32-12 From 'Bridge, into finals

The Schomberg "Sodbusters" steam-rolled to a 32-12 win over Woodbridge under the lights in their last scheduled game Friday. Once the Sodbusters got the range—and they got it early—Doug Brown, their pitching choice, coasted along to his win. Extra base slugging was provided by Dick Flynn and Morley Edwards with a homer each. Edwards also found Tommy Kitchener on the Woodbridge mound a country cousin, landing on him for a triple to boot. The sixth was the big innings with "Bergers" chasing across 10 runs, the eighth, a step behind with seven runs.

It's play-off time in the Peel-York League. Schomberg meets King City in one semi-final set, starting Friday under the lights at Schomberg Park. The second game in the best two of three is carded for King City Monday. Site of third game, if needed, hasn't been settled as yet. Alb. "Pike" Cabl reports this is the series that has to be won. The boys will have to be on their toes—King City will be tough says the Schomberg manager.

In the other bracket Nobleton and Woodbridge go at it. In Woodbridge Friday and return battle at Nobleton Monday. This is also two out of three series. Survivors of the semi-final brackets meet in three out of five series.

Schomberg: D. Flynn, C. D. Brown, P. D. Palmer, B. A. Stevenson, B. L. Bell, ss. M. Edwards, 3b. A. Dale, lf. R. Lipsett, cf. D. Atcheson, rf.

TWO O.A.A. ENTRIES

Newmarket will have two representatives in the Ontario Baseball Association playoffs. They will be in pee-wee and bantam age divisions. Both teams will be sponsored by the Optimist Club. Frank Molingworth will be in charge. Frank is busy this week gathering up players and birth certificates in order to get the teams in under the July 15 deadline.

Mount Albert Girls Split pair with Sutton

After dropping a close 10-8 decision Monday to league leading Sutton ladies in the Lake Simcoe center, Mount Albert lassies reversed the decision Tuesday on their home diamond, out-hitting Sutton for a 13-11 triumph. Both were well played games. Tuesday's contest was one of three rained out games the Mount Albert gals have to catch up on.

Ida Bertolin, as well as pitching a good game for Mount on Monday helped herself to three hits. Ruth Dunn led Sutton at the plate with three hits.

Marguerite Green was the winning hurler for Mount in Tuesday's game. Bertha Crone gave top support with four hits, her last bingle, a double with the bases loaded in the sixth was the pay-off blow. Kathy Diceman and Gertrude Harrison checked in with three hits each in the Mount cause. Ruth Dunn, Rita Riddell, Lila Crowder and Marion Quinn topped the Sutton batting with three hits each. Mary Jane Sinclair pitched both games for Sutton.

Mrs. Bruce Rolling, Mount Albert's manager and coach, gives out with info that Mount gals are playing good ball — and don't sell 'em short when the championship is being awarded. "What Mount Albert boys can do we can do too."

'One of best ever' Oshawa scores 4th win At Zephyr Sports Day

"One of the best sports days ever!" That's the description we have of the Zephyr annual sports day last Saturday. Seven teams faced the barrier in the softball tournament major sporting event of the day. The games, with one exception, kept the fans on their toes all day. Oshawa "Pedlars" for the fourth straight year walked off with the tournament championship and the major cash booty. Christie Motors of Toronto captured second prize money.

Oshawa defeated the Toronto team 3-1 in a thrilling climax to the day. Other five teams in the tournament beside the finalists were Queensville, Lansing, Uxbridge, Buttonville and Zephyr. The home Zephyr "Blues" dropped out in round one losing a 5-2 decision to Buttonville.

Very excellent attendance was reported.

Lacrosse great, 'Big Ollie' dies

We regret to report this week the death of Oliver Whitmore who won a name for himself on the lacrosse field more years ago than we care to remember. "Big Ollie" was a native of Woodbridge and played lacrosse there and at Weston before coming to Aurora in the '20's. Large of stature and heart "Ollie" was next to Mike McKinstry of Bradford as husky an athlete in these parts as ever carried a gutted stick on the greenward. He was a point or coverpoint (defenceman) and loved to lay the shillelagh on the opposing home players especially in the later days of his playing career when the legs began to give out.

For a defenceman he was a skilled stickhandler, and we can still see him weaving his way out of a scramble in his own end, legs lifted high to whip a pass when the breath gave out in Kid Harman or the late Pete Machell or some of the other red and white, or black and orange (as the case might be) Aurora home players.

He was a member of the Aurora team which went down before Bracebridge, a team mate of the late Pete Lustie, the late Alfie Brodie, the late George Hart, John Billing, Bob McLeod, Bill Epworth, Vern Lepper, the late Orval Ganton, Jack Egan, "Sluggie" Hodgins, "Dooley" Butler, Arnold Mollenhauer, Harry Doonan, Cliff Harman, Gordy Harman, the late Gene Underhill, Jack Brown, "Dooley" Blair, Nimmy Hodgins, Percy Brodie, and the rest who wore Aurora sweaters to the close of field lacrosse.

He played with Bradford and Toronto Maitlands as well and when box-lacrosse came into being in the early '30's he was one of the veteran players along with Charlie Harman who helped revive "the national game" and donned a sweater to do so. Remember that Aurora team of "Chick" Milne, Whitmore, Jack Johnston (brought from Woodbridge by Ollie), Wilkie Fleury, Shorty Turans, yours truly, Bruce Browning, Harman, George Hart, Bill Patrick, Perc. Preston, Jack Egan, and one or two more? Packed in the second largest crowd ever to see a contest in the Aurora arena of any kind that year. When the Metropolitan lacrosse loop started just prior to the war he was back at it again, and when a few years ago Aurora juniors revived the game he was often out to practice and the games even though he lived in Toronto.

We know of no one who got a greater kick out of the game, and no one who liked to get "the goat" of opposing players, or the referees. He was a great debater with the officials, and put on a great show for the benefit of the fans. He was a good man to have on your side, and a good friend.

Last week Vic Coombs, Bradford councillor and in his day another lacrosse expert, passed away in his early 40's. Vic, who possessed weight and speed both, played with his native Bradford, and St. Simon's and he was a great sports booster in Celerytown. Whitmore had about 15 years in age on Coombs but it is appalling to note the growing list of former athletes snatched by the grim reaper in the so-called "prime of life."

Ernie James and Nick Burnside hasten to point out that Bradford lacrosse team has finally won a game and from here in they're bound to improve. It was Alliston in the same series who took a 12-3 licking and Streetsville can watch out too. The management has wisely enough decided to stick with Bradford boys as much as possible and here's the line-up: goal, Bulpit; d., Compton and Standerew (yes that the ever-green Perry); c., Bruce Collings; forwards, Keith Collings and Bob Hanna; rover, K. James; subs, Legge, Mashinter, Lowe, Buchanan, MacQuarrie, White, and Roy "Mutt" Collins will join the team soon as will one or two others.

And just to remind you that hockey will soon be starting again, Brampton Juniors who are leading the O.A.A.

junior group, include Bill Longhouse of Woodbridge "Suds" Sutherland, Kingshot, Gerry Howell and Bobby Hillson (the lad who socked referee Randy Anderson and got away with it) from the Brampton Regents junior club. They'll be ready for hockey all right.

Jimmy Stocks, chunky young Aurora high school athlete, is headed for Royal Military College come the fall. Jim should be able to make the military football squad. Phil Hobson, another athlete, is pitching great softball for King this summer and the 17-year-old hurler looks like the find of the season in softball.

Jimmy Rose, ex-Newmarket boy who is in the grocery business, is playing softball as usual for Angus in the Vespra senior league. Names from some fairly good sources, and it may only be that, has Gus Morrison of Toronto going to Chicago in exchange for Doug Bentley. We can't picture Smythe trading the effective Morrison, one of the best blueliners in the league, for the older Bentley who threatens to retire. Strange things happen however, and we pass on to you what we hear. One thing is definite there'll be a few changes in the Leafs' line-up before long.

Ginger Fugh, ex-Aurora athlete and sports enthusiast who met with a tragic accident last fall is home for a few weeks from hospital and he'll welcome visits from you. You can't help but feel better after seeing Ginger's courage and morale, both tops.

I liked the pitching performance of Andy Glass on the mound for Aurora midweek last week. Andy has a nice curve ball and a fair turn of speed, which will come with experience. He has played the outfield in other seasons. In addition to his baseball, Andy should be able to fill one of the gaps on the Aurora junior hockey club next winter without too much trouble.
